

I'm standing on the beach looking out to sea
It's dark and cold and raining but it doesn't bother me
The tears are streaming down my face, it's been like this all day
Since the news guy wept and told us
" David Bowie's passed away "

Other stars have died, in recent months and years
But they nor friends and family, have reduced me to so many tears
Is it because you were the one, above all that I admired ?
To perform and write songs, you were the one that so inspired
Who knows where I would be today if I had not been such a fan ?
Without your beer light to guide us would there have been so many bands ?
Changes ?— yeah you changed my life, perhaps more than I'll ever know
My heart aches and my eyes are red
Hot Tramp I love you so
